The homeless unmarried mum, and carpenter

Christmas is the story of Mary, a young unmarried mum, giving birth to a refugee child, Jesus, in a sheep shed. The central male character in this story is Joseph, Mary's fiancée, who supports her decision to give birth to a child when he is not the biological father. We have been remembering this story for over 2000 years now. It is puzzling that many of us who enact this event faithfully year after year, fail to be sensitive to children born in similar circumstances today (refugee children) to parents like Mary and Joseph (unmarried, poor workers). God chose an unmarried teenager whose fiancée was a carpenter, to give birth to 'King / Saviour' Jesus, in a sheep shed. Are we able to recognise the face of the Holy Family in the many former refugees who seek new lives as our neighbours?

There is something we can do - not only at Christmas but every day of the year. The major focus of the Cardinal's Care Appeal 2018 is supporting 697 former refugees in 220 households. Catholic Social Services has helped train volunteers to welcome and set up homes for former refugees. This is in addition to the significant work by the Refugee Family Reunification Trust who have been helping bring the loved ones of former refugees to Aotearoa for over 17 years and raised more than $1.7 million to make that happen. If you would like to be a volunteer with either of these initiatives then contact:

Details on how to donate to the Cardinals Care Appeal are available in every church - if you can't find the information then ask your priest or lay pastoral leader.

He speaks powerfully of the need to place people at the centre - not money. He stresses that each person is irreplaceable in God's eyes. This is a TED talk not to be missed.

From Pope
Francis

"When one realizes that life, even in the middle of so many contradictions, is a gift, that love is the source and the meaning of life, how can they withhold their urge to do good to another fellow being?"

Archdiocesan Pastoral Council - 16-17 November

The November meeting of the Archdiocesan Pastoral Council coincided with the weekend of World Day of the Poor, and so was, fittingly, held at the Compassion Soup Kitchen in Tory St. Members had an opportunity to see first-hand some of the work being done for and with the poor, to experience the wonderful hospitality which marks the Compassion Sisters charism, and to learn more of the life and work of their founder, Suzanne Aubert.

During the afternoon session the Council discussed Pope Francis' Letter to the People of God, looking particularly for ways to facilitate opportunities for people in parishes to talk about their responses to Pope Francis' Letter, their embarrassment, their anger, their sorrow as the People of God arising from sexual abuse in the Church on the one hand and on the other, for building a safe Church into the future, whilst at the same time acknowledging the huge gains already made by the Church in Aotearoa over the last twenty years.

Stewardship, a way of life - December update

It has been a very productive finish to the year with four major events on the calendar. Cardinal John and the Young Church Ministry held a Stewardship Day for Young Adults on October 7. While only a relatively small group gathered, Cardinal John was very pleased with the great discussion his presentation provoked.

On October 27 the annual Stewardship Retreat was held at Sacred Heart Petone Church from 9.30am-3.45pm. The theme was 'What Do You Want Me To Do For you?' – the question Jesus asks of Bartimaeus, the blind beggar in the Gospel reading for Sunday October 28. Two parishioners, Ronnie Parton from Te Awakairangi and Henare Walmsley from Te Ngakau Tapu were the main presenters on the day. Both were wonderfully reflective, giving those present the prayerful space to ponder on their unique call to holiness. It was very well attended, and the email thanks later spoke hugely of what the day had meant to them, and the difference it had made in their lives. Sometimes we forget that for people tied up with young families, and multiple jobs, the opportunities to take a day out to reflect are very few and far between.

On November 10 the Stewardship Committee organised a Stewardship Breakfast, at the Angus Inn, in Lower Hutt. Again, it was very well attended, with over 60 present. What a gift of a morning! Cardinal John spoke so eloquently about Stewardship, the fruits of the Spirit, and magnanimity. He was followed by three parishioners, Josephine Eynon from Our Lady of the Valleys, Lina Tovia from St Michaels Taita, and Rita Kasiano-Graves from Ss Peter and Paul, who spoke on the meaning of Stewardship in their lives. The fervent hope is that other parish communities in the Archdiocese will experience Stewardship Breakfasts in 2019.

Companions/Friends of Religious Congregations

Charisms that have previously been the domain of vowed religious are lived out in homes and workplaces finding new expression in today's world. Religious orders, who may be attracting fewer members to vowed life, are drawing significant numbers of people to live in relationship with them, sharing dreams and working towards common goals to bring about the reign of God. This is an evolving relationship between laity and religious orders.
